DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments, see page 6-12, filed on 3/2/2003, with respect to claims 1-17 and 21-23 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The final rejection of claims 1-17 and 21-23 has been withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 22-23 are allowed.

Claim 2-10 and 12-17 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

3. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Prior art fails to show: Prior art fails to show a magnet including: a first side facing the stator or the rotor and a second side facing the stator or the rotor wherein the second side of each magnet including at least one surface that is nonparallel with the rotor axis. Prior art also fails to show a body having a central axis along which a portion of the body is aligned, a first side that faces in a first direction and a second side facing opposite the first side, the second side including at least one surface that is oriented to be non-parallel with the first body central axis, a plurality of surfaces on the second side, a first one of the surfaces having a constant width and a second one of the surfaces having a varying width, and a magnetic field having a central -line that is skewed relative to the body central axis. Prior art also fails to show a magnet including at least one surface that is nonparallel with the rotor axis, a distance between the second side surface and the first side surface that varies along a length of the body, and a magnetic field with a centerline that is not aligned with the rotor axis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brandes (5323077).

Brandes discloses a permanent magnet motor in fig.2 comprising: a magnet (8) having a body with a central axis with at least one edge aligned parallel to the axis along an entire length of the edge and a magnetic field having a centerline that is skewed (dotted lines) relative to the body central axis (col.2 line 8-45)

Referring to claim 11

Brades discloses a permanent magnet motor comprising: a stator (1), rotor (7) that rotates about a rotor axis relative to the stator; and a plurality of magnets (8) supported by either the rotor each of the magnets having a body with at least one edge aligned parallel with the rotor axis along the entire length of the edge and a magnetic field with a centerline that is not aligned with the rotor axis col.2 line 8-45).
